NEW RULE FOR 2024 The SEC have imposed a new rule for all performances in 2024 meaning that any piece of scenery that a person sits or stands on must not be taller than 590mm in height (measured from floor level). The basis of this is a legal requirement for any scenery over this height to be inspected by the council prior to use which incurs a huge cost and in many cases is not practical as they also ask for structural drawings to back this up.
